HENRY RAPPOLT, BAKER

Heinrich (Henry) Rappolt was born in Bavaria, Germany and emigrated to the United States about 1873. He died in 1942 at age 84 years and is buried in the Clay St. Cemetery in Fairbanks.

The Pathfinder, June, 1923.

(Official organ of the Pioneers of Alaska)

Henry Rappolt, owner of Rappolt's Bakery in Nenana, expects shortly to retire from business and take a year's vacation on the rushing Outside. He started his first bakeshop in Dyea, and since has been in business in Atlin, Fairbanks, and Nenana.

The LoC allows us to trace Henry Rappolt's movements.

FIRE AT ELKHORN

...The building occupied by Mrs. Concannon belonged to Harry Rappolt, who left Elkhorn about a year ago and went to Alaska and is now in the Atlin lake country.

This places him in Atlin, probably some time prior to 1899, as mentioned in "The Pathfinder." The advertisement below adds Haines Mission to the list.

Daily Morning Alaskan, Skagway, March 24, 1899.

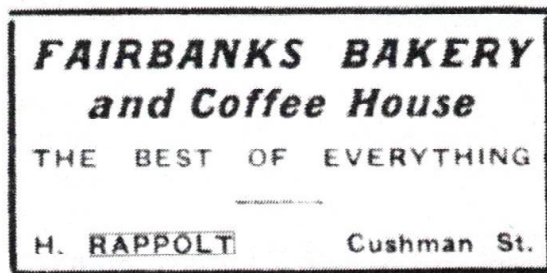

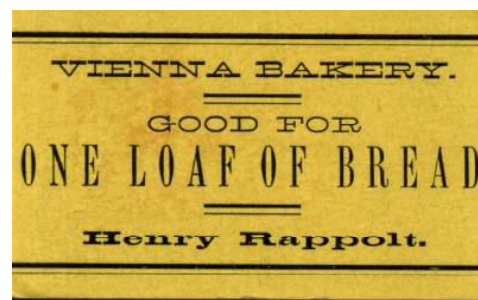

For Sale

A bakery and coffee house, the only one in town, (Miller oven.) Owner has some claims inside which he has to work. For particulars address.

*H. Rappolt
Haines Mission, Alaska*

Rappolt was an early pioneer in the north. There is a blank period of time where he is absent from the LoC - 1899 to 1905.

There is no mention of Rappolt in connection with Vienna Bakery, but there is a cardboard token. This was attributed to Skagway in our May/June 2005 issue. I have no recollection why it was attributed to Skagway. It could be Dyea, Haines Mission or Atlin.

Alaska Citizen, Fairbanks, February 10,

By 1905 Henry Rappolt is in Fairbanks. As well as his bakery business, he was on City Council.

EDITOR'S COMMENTS

It appears that I went down the bakery rabbit hole this issue! Mrs. Preiss' Bakery is examined. I thought, what is probably the best known bakery token from Alaska? The San Francisco Bakery of Juneau came to mind. And there are bakery tokens from Ketchikan and Nome.

Tony's Comet gives us a break from bakeries, and there is graft (imagine that) in the Alaska Railroad commissary during its construction. And we probably have discovered the maker of the Collins & Strait tokens from Circle City. I say probably discovered because it may have been known to others, but not to me. See prices realized and page 130.

An interesting month on eBay. A new tool check from Katalla was offered, and a doubly conterstamped token from Shakan was also on offer. Both brought respectable prices. An unlisted Club Card Room $1 was sold on a Best Offer. There is an unlisted 5¢ Club Card Room currently on eBay and we will report on it in the next issue. See the prices realized in the right column.

The yearly index is included with this issue. The compiled 2024 prices realized will be in the next issue.

As is our practice, we like to thank those who have contributed information to this newsletter. A special thanks goes to J.D. HENRY RAPPOLT, CONT.

Rappolt, the proprietor of the Butternut bakery on Second avenue, who is making the trip to the states in search of health. For many months past Mr. Rappolt has been suffering from acute stomach trouble, and has finally decided to consult the celebrated Mayo Brothers at Rochester, Minnesota. Should the latter consider it necessary to operate the former councilman is prepared to undergo the ordeal and have it over with. He and his local physicians are of the opinion it will not be necessary, however to undergo the knife.

After his treatment at Rochester Mr. Rappolt will visit the east calling upon his son who is located in Washington, D.C. It is his intention to return here shortly after the opening of navigation.

The "Butternut Bakery" makes its appearance in July of 1913.

Alaska Citizen, Fairbanks, July 7, 1913.

Socialist Press, Fairbanks, August 15, 1914.

There are three different tokens for the Butternut Bakery. Two are shown at the top of the right column. The third is shown on the front page.

Alaska Citizen, Fairbanks, June 28, 1915.

Edgar Rappolt Drowned in Slough

Edgar Rappolt, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Rappolt of this city, was accidentally drowned at 6 o'clock last Monday evening while crossing a small slough about nine miles above Wood River. He, with a man named McGrath, was on his way back to Fairbanks from the Totatlanika country.

Alaska Citizen, Fairbanks, November 29, 1915.

FUNERAL OF MRS. RAPPOLT IS HELD

The funeral services over the body of Mrs. Henry Rappolt were held Saturday afternoon at Eagle hall under the auspices of the local Igloo of the Pioneers of which Mr. Rappolt is a member. The services were conducted by Rev. H.H. Lumpkin, the ritualistic ceremonies of the Pioneers being in charge of A.R. Heilig, acting president, and Dr. L.C. Smith as chaplain. Several appropriate musical selections were rendered by a quartette composed of E.E. Mack, H.H. Lumpkin, R.W. Taylor and Elmer Sanderlin, while a chorus of the members of the Gesang Verein Harmonic sang one song.

Few funerals in Fairbanks have seen a larger attendance, the hall being crowded by the sorrowing friends of the deceased. Many also followed the body to the last resting place in the Fairbanks cemetery...

Mrs. Rappolt was born in Ohio in 1866. She was first married at the age of 16 years to Nick Bergstrom, who with three of their children, was killed in a snowslide in Montana in 1913. (ed note: 1893). At that time she and her remaining son, then but a baby, also barely escaped death. His loss, last summer, by drowning, was such a severe blow to her that she never fully recovered from it.

Mr. and Mrs. Rappolt were married in Montana in 1897. Shortly afterward the former came north and opened a bakery at Dyea, being later joined by his wife and her son. They went to Dawson and later came to Fairbanks, where they have since resided and where Mrs. Rappolt endeared herself to all who made here acquaintance. She leaves her husband to mourn her death. It is stated that she also leaves three brothers and a sister.

Alaska Citizen, Fairbanks, January 31, 1916.

McGowan & Youle, who formerly conducted the Model cafe, on First avenue, are planning to open a restaurant in the Rappolt bakery building on Second avenue.

Henry Rappolt moves his bakery business to Nenana. At this time, Nenana was the "end of the rail," and booming with construction workers. He resumed his political career serving on the Nenana city council.

Nenana News, October 21, 1916.

The Rappolt bakery building on the west side of A street has been finished, including the large plate-glass front which was installed during the past week. It will be some time before Mr. Rappolt will be ready to serve the public with bread as there yet remains considerable work to be done on the interior of the building.

Alaska Citizen, Fairbanks, September 3, 1917.

RAPPOLT SELLS HIS INTERESTS

Henry Rappolt the well known old time baker of the interior, who arrived here yesterday from Nenana reports having disposed of his bakery and restaurant interests at the railroad town to Mrs. Ed. Brooker, formerly of Chatanika. The lot and building occupied by the bakery were leased to Mrs. Brooker for a term of two years.

Mr. Rappolt desires to thank all his friends and patrons in Nenana and in Fairbanks for the patronage that has been accorded him in the many years he has been in business in the interior. He expects to leave for the outside within the next few days, and will probably go direct to the home of his son at Washington, D.C.

RAPPOLT SAYS ALASKANS HAVE FAVORED SPOT

Oldtimer Returns with news of the Great Outside, Where Living Costs are High

Among the arrivals on the steamer Yukon yesterday was Henry Rappolt, well known resident of Nenana, who has just returned after an absence of nearly a year in the States. Mr. Rappolt comes almost direct from the national capital where he spent the greater part of the winter...

Mr. Rappolt believes that Alaskans are very well off where they are. All things considered, he says, Northerners can do as well here as they could in the States, and many of them can do better here.

Nenana Daily News, September 15, 1919.

NEW BAKERY IS OPEN IN RENOVATED STORE

The Rappolt bakery opened its doors to the public during the week, in the Rappolt building, on A street, about opposite the Coliseum. Previous to resuming business, Mr. Rappolt gave the place a thorough going over, lining the walls with pressed steel, and making other improvements which add much to the attractiveness of the place.

Nenana News, September 5, 1922.

Henry Rappolt had the misfortune to fall yesterday and break several ribs. As a result of the accident, his bakery will remain closed until he can get a baker down from Fairbanks.

Nenana News, September 28, 1922.

Henry Rappolt is back on the job again at his bakery, having fully recovered from his recent injury. He made a trip to Fairbanks after getting out of the hospital.

Nenana News, November 11, 1922.

Henry Rappolt has been advised of the arrival at Seattle of his nephew and niece, who are enroute from Germany, to make their home in the North. It is Mr. Rappolt's plan to take the young folks in the bakery with him and eventually turn the business over to them.

Nenana News, November 21, 1922.

Unescorted and unable to speak English, Elizabeth and Henry Rappolt, aged respectively 17 and 16 years, arrived in Nenana this morning direct from Lambsheim, Germany, being five weeks on the road. They had no difficulty in making the trip, however, for they were met at terminals and transfer points by friendly welfare society representatives and looked after during the stop-overs. The arrivals are relatives of Henry Rappolt, pioneer baker of Nenana, and will learn the business with a view to taking it over eventually.

Nenana News, March 17, 1923.

RAPPOLT WANTS TO SELL HEALTH COMPELS CHANGE

Henry Rappolt, pioneer businessman of Nenana, has announced his intention of disposing of his bakery business as soon as a buyer can be found. Failing health is given as the reason for selling. Mr. Rappolt having found that, at his age, he can no longer stand up under the work. He wants to get away from the bakery before he breaks down entirely and has a very attractive offer to make anyone interested.

The Rappolt Bakery is one of the largest and best businesses in the North. The bakery is complete in every detail and there is, in addition, a larger room fronting on the street, at present being used as a lunch room, modern sanitary furnishings. The building is one of the most substantial and attractive structures in Nenana.

Apparently the plan for the nephew and niece to take over the business did not work out. The niece did marry a Nenana man, but I found nothing further on the nephew. After selling his bakery, he returned to Fairbanks.

“LOG CABIN BAKERY”

Nome Nugget, November 27, 1901.

B.F. Miller, of the B.F. Miller Baking Company, and H.C. Gordon seem to have it all their way as far as the school board vacancy is concerned. Miller is an old-timer in Alaska, having camped in Skagway away back in 1897. He built the first log cabin in that town, and it afterward became famous as the “Log Cabin Bakery.” In those days, when everybody was a cheechako, and Klondike or bust was the motto of most, and each had more or less money in his poke, and “haste” was the watchword, it is not to be wondered that Log Cabin bread sold for four bits a loaf. But it was pretty good bread.

A great “short”, but no tokens known!

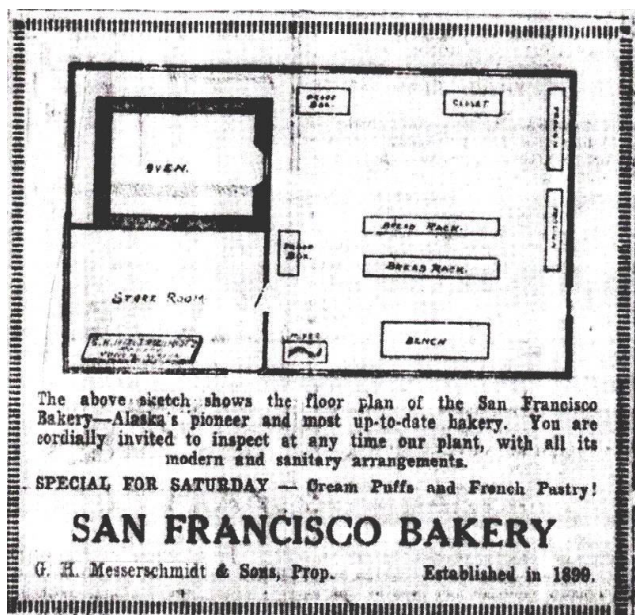

SAN FRANCISCO BAKERY - JUNEAU B-65a

The San Francisco Bakery in Juneau was owned by George and Henry Messerschmidt. The first advertisement appeared in the Alaska Daily Empire on November 2, 1912 where they butchered the Messerschmidt name (Messehschmidt).

The following ad indicates that it is now "G.H. Messerschmidt & Sons, Prop."

Advertisements continued for many years until 1946, when we are presented with a bit of history when Messerschmidt brothers sold the bakery.

Daily Alaska Empire, November 12, 1946.

SALE OF OLDEST ALASKAN BAKERY ANNOUNCED HERE

Messerschmidt Brothers Sell Out to Local Merchant Group.

Sale of their San Francisco Bakery business to a local merchant group comprised of Marshall Erwin, Bert McDowell and Levi Hunsaker was announced today by George and Henry Messerschmidt. The sale became effective today.

The San Francisco Bakery, Alaska's oldest bakery, was founded in 1899 by the late G.H. Messerschmidt, father of George and Henry, and has been operated continuously since that time by members of the Messerschmidt family. No realty is involved in the present sale, only the bakery business and equipment is being transferred.

Erwin and McDowell, two of the new owners, are well known local merchants. The third of the trio taking over the business, Levi Hunsaker, is a master baker. He will be directly in charge of bakery operations.

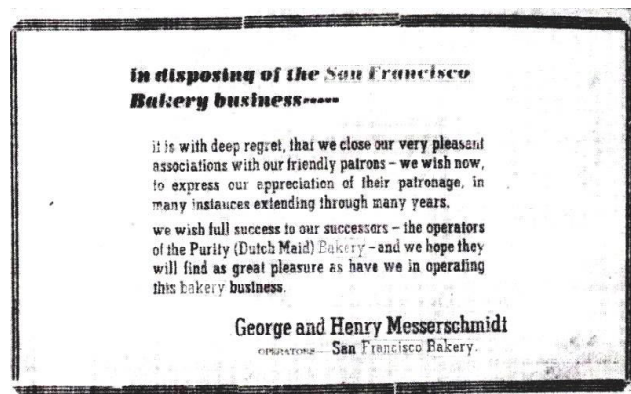

Hunsaker formerly for seven years was foreman for the Continental Baking Company in Portland, Oregon, and his experience covers 20 years in the baking business. He first came to Juneau in 1945, as a foreman for Sully's Bakery here.

The new owners are re-naming the business the "Purity Dutch Maid Bakery." They plan extensive alterations of the present premises and will install the latest in bakery machinery as soon as transportation is available. Mr. Hunsaker plans to offer a complete line of bakery goods under the Purity Dutch Maid label. The location of the bakery business will remain in the Messerschmidt building, on Second Street.

Both George and Henry Messerschmidt intend to continue to manage their properties here. Otherwise, however, they have no definite long-range plans for the future. Henry Messerschmidt, for the next few days, until the new owners have the business in hand, will remain with the bakery. George Messerschmidt, for some while, will continue to look after the "outside end" of the business. Mrs. Harry Lee and Mrs. R. L. Stewart will continue as other members of the bakery staff.

Daily Alaska Empire, November 13, 1946.

Daily Alaska Empire, July 12, 1947.

MESSERSCHMIDT BACK IN BAKERY BUSINESS HERE

Former Owner Joins with Hunsaker to Buy Purity Interest.

Negotiations completed yesterday have resulted in Henry Messerschmidt's re-entry into the business for many years operated here by his family under the name of the San Francisco Bakery, now known as the Purity Bakery, Inc.

Only last year, Henry and his brother George Messerschmidt, sold out the San Francisco Bakery to grocerymen Bert F. McDowell and Marshall Erwin, who changed the name of the business to Purity Bakery. Now, Henry Messerschmidt has joined with Levi Hunsaker to purchase the McDowell-Erwin interest, it is announced.

Hunsaker has been manager of the Purity Bakery, being placed in charge by McDowell and Erwin immediately after they purchased the former bakery business. Under his direction, a number of improvements have been made to the service and facilities.

CAPE NEWENHAM, 794th A.C. & W. SQUADRON, N.C.O. OPEN MESS, B-1, a,c,e,g,i, (aluminum)

Cape Newenham Air Force Station is located on the south Bering Sea coast 385 miles southwest of Elmendorf AFB. The 2,359 acre site was one of the ten original aircraft control and warning sites constructed as part of the establishment of a permanent air defense system in Alaska. The 794th Aircraft Control & Warning Squadron was activated on 8 December 1952. Due to delays in construction, the squadron operated on a limited basis until the site became operational in 1954.

The main camp is in a valley between peaks. The station had a tramway connecting the base station with the radar antennas located on a mountain peak at 2,300 feet. The tramway cables were constantly breaking because of the extreme weather. A new riblet type tramway was installed in 1962.

Tours to the station were limited to 1 year because of psychological strain and physical hardships.

The station was deactivated March 30, 1979 and replaced with an Alascom-owned satellite earth terminal. The 794th was deactivated November 1, 1983.

OK, I bought too many and I paid too much. I need to sell a bunch of sets to cover my costs. But that is my problem.

Individually these tokens list for $25 each in Benice, and sell for more on eBay.

You can buy this set of five aluminum tokens for $25 plus actual postage. As usual, I will ship on approval and you can pay upon receipt. If half of you purchase a set, that will just about cover my costs. (Begging is not beneath me).
